Dear Nueva Core Teachers,

Serena Martinez is a chemistry student of mine here at Windsor High School. Serena is an enthusiastic student who contributes frequently during class discussions. She is a great team player and oftentimes takes a leadership role in her lab group. Serena is very pleasant to have in class, and comes with a great attitude and willingness to work. In addition, she works very well independently.

Serena has held a few jobs, and as a former business owner, I can only guess her dependable and conscientious nature serve her well. I'm sure any employer would be pleased with her work ethic. Her community involvement and interest in school activities help to show her well-rounded nature and dedicated contributor to community.

I would highly recommend Serena as a student, employee, or any other position that requires a dependable, responsible and good-natured person. Please feel free to call me with any questions or concerns you may have concerning Serena.

Sincerely,

Scott Ames
